Sportsmanship

It is important to note that this is a casual narrative, and the event will be ran in a casual, free-flowing way. The event organiser like Factorum, are dedicated to creating a community of players, who would rather come along and geek out, while playing their favorite game systems, rather than focus on winning a game. We would like people to come to Factorum, not just for the tables, with thematic Scenary but also an enjoyable opponent and positive gaming experiences. The Factorum community is constantly growing with friendly, enthusiastic and welcoming players.

We will be taking deliberate rule breaking, or being disrespectful to staff, or other players very seriously. We follow the factorum code of conduct
